What President Stevens Has to Say About Feeling of Unrest.

GETTING CLOSER TO PEOPLE

President Finley's Doctrine Tak ing Root-Agents Must Tell About Delayed Trains.

The address of President Finley, of the Southern Railway, made to the freight and passenger agents assembled in Atlanta some time ago, has been published in this paper. In that address the president emphasized the importance to the railways of getting closer to the people, and with a view to bringing about this happy state of affairs he laid down certain modes of procedure on the part of employes. Mr. C. H. Ackert, vice-president and general manager of the Southern, has enclosed a copy of President Finley's address to the employes and officials of the read, great and small. Accompanying the address is a circular from Mr. Ackert, from which the following extracts, interesting to the public, are taken:

extracts, interesting to the public, are taken:

"It is the earnest desire of the officers of the company to promote and maintain harmonious relations with all those doing business with the Southern Rallway and to increase the efficiency of the road in every direction. For the attainment of the best results it is necessary that a spirit of co-operation should exist in all departments, and that each individual should thoroughly understand his duties and should zealously devote himself to their faithful performance. I invoke the hearty support of every man in this department in carrying out the oplicy of the company in these important matters.

In all matters the bearing of our employes toward passengers, as well as toward all our patrons and toward the public, should be governed by a high mense of courtesy and consideration."

Statistics indicate that the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. prospered exceedingly last year, especially throughout the South. The statistics show that the department gained 23 new associations, 10,286 members, and 32 buildings, valued at $742,400. The most costly building was constructed at St. Augustine, on the Florida East Coast Line, the cost being $60,000.

The movement of the employes of the Southern Railway to raise a large fund for the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of Samuel Spencer, late president of the road, is assuming definite shape. The amount proposed to be secured is $50,000. It has been decided that the monument shall stand on the plaza in front of the terminal station at Atlanta, Ga.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The frashness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a matron is only a dim shadow, a faint eche of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weak-nesses which too often come with mar-riage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing thecheek f its freshness and the form of its

The North Carolina Legislature, now in session, has a number of drastic railway bills before it; among them is one, measure that if passed will absolutely forbid all sorts of courtesies between the railroads and the newspaper-men. This has got some of the latter "on the ear." The Hendorson, N. C., Gold Leaf says:

"The editors of North Carolina neither demand nor desire any special favors at the hands of the railroads. They simply ask for the right of contract—to be allowed to deal with them on a basis mutually satisfactory to all parties concerned, and in a manner that is The North Carolina Legislature, now

And yet some of our wise legislators would step in and make it unlawful for the newspapers and railroads to enter into such arrangement as this." to enter into a contract to exchange

One of the Last to Testify in Two-Cent Rate Matter.

The State Corporation Commission will near the evidence of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad against the proposed 2-cent-passengerrate schedule, beginning at 11 o'clock this morning. The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac is one of the last roads to testify, and the hearing will probably wind up shortly, so far as the commission is concerned. The lawyers are making up a voluminous record in the case, and it is believed it will finally go to the courts whatever may be the go to the courts, whatever may be the order of the commission.

PREPARES While Catarrh in its first stages FOR CONSUMPTION usually affects the head, it does not stop there if the trouble is allowed to run on. The contracting of a cold is generally the commencement of the unpleasant symptoms ringing noises in the ears, nose stopped up, mucus dropping back into the throat, hawking and spitting, etc. The inner skin or mucous membrane of the body becomes inflamed and secretes an unhealthy matter which is absorbed into the blood, and Catarrh becomes a serious and changerous blood disease. Every day the blood becomes more heavily loaded with these poisonous secretions, and as the poisoned blood constantly passes through the lungs they become diseased, and often Catarrh terminates in Consumption. Sprays, washes, inhalations and such treatment do no real good, because they do not reach the poison-laden blood, where the real trouble lies. The only way to cure Catarrh is to purify and build up the blood, S. S. S.

President of Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company Makes Denial of Rumors.

EXPLAINS THE VOTING TRUST

Little Business on Stock Market in Richmond Yesterday-Other Business News.

It is emphatically denied by the president of the Virginia Iron. Confand Coke Company that the placing of the majority of the stock of that concern in a voting trust foreshadows a plan to dispose of the property to other interests. No deal of that kind, he says, is under contemplation at the present time. The voting trust was created chiefly for the purpose of assuring the continuance in office of the present management, which has succeeded in very materially strengthening the resources of the company since its reorganization in 1902.

The life of the voting trust, which has been created to hold the majority stock, is limited to five years, but it is also provided that a further extension of two years may be made upon the consent of a majority of the holders of the voting trust certificates. A majority of the stock of the company has already been deposited under the agreement with the Manhattan Bank, of New York, which holds about 56,000 shares out of a total of about 86,000 shares out of a total of about 86,000 shares of stock outstanding.

The voting trustees, pursuant to the authority granted them, recently made application to the New York Stock Exchange for the listing of the voting trust certificates, but the Stock Exchange committee decided not to grant the application, in consequence of which action the trustees have decided the application, in consequence of which action the trustees have decided which action the trustees have declared to accept no more deposits of the stock under the agreement. But this will likewise not affect the voting trust plan, as the trustees already have deposited with them a majority of the shares.

On the Stock Market.

There was but little dealing on the stock market here yesterday. Advices from New York were not such as to encourage speculation or investment. It had been expected that after a three-days' holiday the New York Exchange, upon which the local market, of course, depends, would begin operations again with more activity, but the first information was that the opening was in the nature of a masterly retreat. Various conditions, not the jeast of which was the lower opening in London, contributed to the general bearishness. Foreigners on the New York market seemed inclined to sell even at the low figures, and there were deat the low figures, and there were declines all around, especially in the better class of stocks, such as Louisville and Nashville. New York Central, Pennsylvania, Reading, etc. The investigation of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which was resumed in New York yesterday morning, doubtless had something to do with the general duliness. Then again the reports of railway earnings were not at the low figures, and there were dereports of railway earnings were not at all satisfactory, showing continued decreases as compared with corresponding dates of last year, and even with the last few months.

Under these conditions, the bears renewed their attacks of last week on newed their attacks of last week on the leading stocks, and as the gen-eral sentiment that animated the trad-ers was conservatively bearish there was but little trouble in keeping the market weak. However, the bears were not alto-gether successful, the declines not be-ing as formidable as they had expected. This was perhase due in a measure to

This was, perhaps due in a measure to the fact that the investigation of the Pacifics, referred to, did not furnish as much ammunition as they had Then United States steel came along

Then United States steel came along and enjoyed something of a boost on well-founded reports of immense Japanese orders, and this helped to tone up the entire market, and there was something of a rally in the closing hours on some of the better stocks. It was not sufficient, however, to recover the lost ground and the market closed dull and very bearish.

In the United States Court yesterday Judge Waddill named receivers in the bankruptcy proceeding of Agelesto & Miller, of Norfolk, vs. The Shoe Com-pany, of Newport News.
